

Chateau La Fleur Clemence 2015

Graves Blanc, Graves-en-Bordeaux

Vineyard: 2.46 Ac. on the South side of the hills of Artigues, 36 m (110 ft) elevation, Southern exposure, pure bass soil, with clay-limestone sub-soil. Vineyard modeling allowed by close relation with ADAR, organic manure, and control of yields by a short size and green harvest. Harvest by hand.

Production: 2,000 Bottles (160 cases) per vintage release.

Blend: 75% Semillon, 25% Sauvignon Gris

Second Label of Ch Carbon D'Artigues.

About the Property: The Chateau is located in the commune of Landiras in the heart of Graves soils.

The origin of this vineyard dates back to the 14th century; It was the property of François de Goth, lord of Landiras, nephew of Pope Clement V, who named it "Caillou d'Artigues".

Louis-Michel Musyt and Michel Bonnot have been owners of Château Carbon d'Artigues since 1988. They have, from the beginning, implemented modern vinification techniques, and worked on a continuous improvement of their productions.

Tasting Notes: Floral bouquet. This very nice wine is lively and fruity on the palate, with a predominance of the Semillon and a pleasing finish recalling the range of aromas.
