The label concept, as in the preceding SOLO¹ and now LEAP¹ labels is two-fold:

- 1) Bring attention to our wonderful North Carolina inland and Coastal waters.
- 2) Bring attention to our World's changing weather patterns.

Our Coastal weather patterns have significantly changed in the last decade, or so. The activity depicted on the LEAP¹ label, windsurfing on Harkers Island, was possible practically every weekend due to the beautiful and constant South-component winds that prevailed for millennia.

However, such changed starting in 2012. Today the most common prevailing winds are NE. This brings radically different weather and Ocean conditions, which may not be the best thing for the delicate environment of our Coastal region.

The Ocean waters off our Outer Banks have turned rather cold, even in August. Our beautiful Pamlico Sound is being affected by the NE winds pushing the waters South toward the inlets, and, therefore, out to the Ocean.

The beach erosion on the sound-side of the Outer Banks has accelerated, with most having to be constantly replenished, or let it be all together gone... if it wasn't for rock walls preventing further erosion, which also need to be replenished.

Please mind our environment. It is essential to human life's survival. We are it. Lets not commit mass suicide!

The gales of life send the SOLO¹ soul to the skies. Listen to the skip of a heartbeat as the mind takes a LEAP¹. Dozing through the pores of the id, a mid-air epiphany, the quest for eternity is only a weak mortal's fib. *

This heart-warming wine is ideal with memories and thoughts, peace and love.® M. A. de la Mata/Dreamrider
